Do you like clowns (小丑)? A famous clown show comes to Beijing and Shanghai in September. Its name is Slava's Snowshow. At the end of each show, the clowns and the audience (观众) play with fake (假的) snow together.

But not all clowns give shows in theaters (剧院). In the US, parents like to ask clowns to play for their kids' birthday parties. The clowns tell jokes. They blow up long balloons and make shapes like animals. Some can even do magic tricks (魔术).

A clown usually has a white face and red lipstick (口红), big hair and a red nose. He wears baggy clothes, long shoes and a pointy (尖的) hat. Some people think they're funny. But others think they're scary.

Months ago in America and Europe, there were "crazy" (疯狂的) clowns. They ran after people on the street. Some even hurt people. These "crazy clowns" are dangerous people, not real clowns.

Is that Yao Ming playing basketball? Yes, it looks like the Chinese player, but it is a robot!

The Yao Ming robot was one of the many "stars" at the 2017 World Robot Conference(WRC). It took place from Aug 23 to 27 in Beijing.

Robots from across the world came to WRC. Some can work in factories. Some go to outer space (太空) or under water. But service (服务) robots were the big hits at the WRC. Service robots can help do many jobs in our daily lives, such as washing, teaching and playing sports.

For example, the Yao Ming robot can teach kids how to play basketball. If schools use it, it can bring lots of fun to PE classes.

Alpha 2 is a housekeeper robot. If you want to turn on the lights or TV, just tell it. Before going to sleep, children may also want to hear Alpha 2 tell them a bedtime story.

A supermarket robot makes shopping easier. You can talk with the robot. It will help you find things. It also carries them for you. You can even use the robot to pay for your things.

Since the 1950s, China has sent pandas to other countries as diplomatic gifts. China gave the US two pandas in 1972. This showed the good friendship between Chinese people and American people.

Now pandas are loaned to other countries, such as France and Britain. They usually stay abroad for 10 years and then come back to China. This is to better protect pandas.
