The Best Ways to Lose Weight with Walking

Walking regularly is the easiest and least expensive form of exercise. _____ 77 _____ a good pair of walking shoes, no special _____ 78 _____ is needed. It is not necessary to join a gym. You can walk every day with no “rest days” in between. There is nothing to learn; people already know how to walk. There are, however, a few important things to keep in mind when walking to lose weight.

• Ways to lose weight by walking

The first way to begin to lose weight by walking is to start walking. The initial goal should be 10,000 steps per day. Using a simple _____ 79 _____ attached to the waistband or on a belt will help you to count your daily steps. Consistency—even 10 minutes 3 times a day at first — will produce the _____ 80 _____ results. But slowly increasing the time and the distance will encourage your weight-loss efforts. Beginning a regular walking program. It is very important to check with your medical professional before beginning any exercise program; especially if you are over age 65, have been required sitting or little activity for more than a year, or have been diagnosed with heart disease, pregnancy, high blood pressure, or any other medical conditions.

• How to walk to lose weight

A good walking _____ 81 _____ will help you achieve the physical or mental energy you need to walk _____ 82 _____ for the amount of time you have set for your goal. Making sure that you are using your large muscles correctly will also help to build your muscles.

Walking _____ 83 _____ can aid in muscle growth and increase the amount of calories you burn throughout the day. Eating a healthy low-fat diet will raise your metabolism(新陈代谢). these two methods will help lead to a _____ 84 _____ 1-2 pound weight loss per week. If paired the calorie burn with the correct diet, it can lead to a better form of weight loss.

Paper 3 Reading and writing

Choose the best answer (8分)

Steven Stein likes to follow garbage trucks. His strange habit makes sense when you consider that he's an environmental scientist who studies how to reduce litter, including things that fall off garbage trucks as they drive down the road. What is even more interesting is that one of Stein's jobs is defending an industry behind the plastic shopping bags.

Americans use more than 100 billion thin film plastic bags every year. So many end up in tree branches or along highways that a growing number of cities do not allow them at checkouts. The bags are prohibited in some 90 cities in California, including Los Angeles. Eyeing these headwinds, plastic-bag makers are hiring scientists like Stein to make the case that their products are not as bad for the planet as most people assume.

Among the bag makers' argument: many cities with bans still allow shoppers to purchase paper bags, which are easily recycled but require more energy to produce and transport. And while plastic bags may be ugly to look at, they represent a small percentage of all garbage on the ground today.

The industry has also taken aim at the product that has appeared as its replacement: reusable shopping bags. The stronger a reusable bag is, the longer its life and the more plastic-bag use it cancels out. However, long-lasting reusable bags often require more energy to make. One study found that a cotton bag must be used at least 131 times to be better for the planet than plastic.

Environmentalists don't dispute these points. They hope paper bags will be banned someday too and want shoppers to use the same reusable bags for years.

What has Steven Stein been hired to do?

Help increase grocery sales.

Recycle the waste material.

Stop things falling off trucks.

Argue for the use of plastic bags.

【参考答案】 D

【思路解析】根据第一段 one of Stein's jobs is defending an industry behind the plastic shopping bags 和 第二段 plastic-bag makers are hiring scientists like Stein to make the case that their products are not as bad for the planet as most people assume. 可知塑料袋生产商雇佣 Steven 是为了证明他们的塑料袋并不像大多数人想象的那样对地球有害。

What does the word "headwinds" in paragraph 2 refer to?

Bans plastic bags.

Effects of city by garbage.

Headaches caused by garbage.

Plastic bags hung in trees.

【参考答案】 A

【思路解析】 headwinds 指塑料袋被禁用的现状，即 Bans on plastic bags，只有 A 选项符合

What is a disadvantage of reusable bags according to plastic-bag makers?

They are quite expensive.

Replacing them can be difficult.

They are less strong than plastic bags.

Producing them requires more energy.

【参考答案】 D

【思路解析】根据第四段 However, long-lasting reusable bags often require more energy to make, 可知塑料袋生产商认为生产耐用且能重复使用的袋子需要更多的能量。

What is the best title for the text?

Plastic, Paper or Neither

Industry, Pollution and Environment

Recycle or Throw Away

【参考答案】A

【思路解析】文章讲述了使用塑料袋造成的环境问题，纸袋容易回收，但生产和运输需要更多的能源，希望消费者使用耐用可重复使用的袋子。所以最合适的标题为A。

Answer the questions. (12 分)

AlphaGo, a computer program has beaten a master Go player Lee Se-dol 4-1 in a competition. Lee, one of the greatest players who has won 18 world championships for 21 years of his professional career. It is seen as a landmark moment for artificial intelligence. The AlphaGo system was developed by British computer company Deep Mind which was bought by Google in 2014. Mr.Lee had we expressed his confidence ahead of the match,but after losing the first contest, he said "I was very surprised because I did not think I would lose the game". Lee Se-dol said he felt "regrettable" about the result of the contest. At a press conference held after the final match, Mr. Lee said he did not necessarily think AlphaGo was superior humans. But he said he had more studying to do, and admitted the matches had challenged some of his ideas about the Go game. And the victory of the computer has led to some introspection (反思). Go originated more than 2500 years ago in ancient China, and it's one of the oldest board games played today. It is considered one of the most complex board games. It is played on a board made up of a grid of 19 by 19 squares. The game opens with players taking turns to place black and white playing pieces, known as "stones", on the vacant intersections, known as the "points" of the board. The aim, as the translation of its name means, is to surround a larger total area of the board than your opponent by the end of the game. The contest was held in Seoul, the capital of South Korea, and has attracted huge attention. The first match was live broadcast and watched by 60 million viewers in China alone, with an estimated global audience of 100 million. The AlphaGo's developer will get 1 million U.S. dollars in prize, which will be donated to charities. Lee Se-dol hasn't won over AlphaGo in the game, has he?
